Four Roman imperial busts

Wax models of the Roman emperors Tiberius, Caligula, Titus and Domitian.

Size-Height about 75 mm.

Finished brass castings.

To reduce weight they are completely hollow.

Bust of the divine emperor Tiberius. With a kerassa, armor, and a laurel wreath. Based on Naples, Archaeological Museum.

Tiberius Size-Height about 77 mm.

Inside the pedestal is written my creative name, pseudonym CVINTV ETVVIVS SEXTI . Centurio Q. Etuvius. Capreolus from Vindobona -Vienna, who served 35 yearswith IIII Scythica and rose from the ranks to Centurionate, and was conscripted at the latest, in the time of Tiberius.

Wax model.

……

Roman emperor Caligula.

Size-Height about 75 mm.

The bust of the Roman emperor Caligula. He ruled from 37 to 41 AD. Cuirass with Gorgon, Medusa, in the centre. Capitoline Museums, Rome, Marble.There are allegations that it could be an image of his great grandfather, the emperor Augustus.

Wax bust model.

……

Bust of imp. Titus

With a kerassa armor with gorgon medusa. Cloak and fibula on the left shoulder.

Size-Height about 77 mm.

Wax bust model.

……

Bust of Emperor Domitian

Finished brass height 75 mm.

Inside the pedestal is written my creative name, pseudonym CVINTV ETVVIVS SEXTI . Centurio Q.Etuvius. Capreolus from Vindobona -Vienna, who served 35 yearswith IIII

Scythica and rose from the ranks to Centurionate, and was conscripted at the latest, in the time of Tiberius.

Emperor Domitian, bust in cuirass armor with image of god Pan in the middle and lions as hangers, is based on a statue of Domitian. Busto di Domiziano (Museo Archeologico di Napoli).

Wax bust of Domitian. Size-Height about 75 mm.

……