

Roman Purses Bracelet

From several years I've been collecting materials (scientific publications) for the so-called Roman Purses Bracelet.

These bronze purse (this a replica made with us) are typical for Roman limes. The findings (known and published) are mostly from the limes of Danube, Rhine and Britain.

Coins used for this reconstruction are REPLICAS.

This replica of a Roman bronze purse bracelet is full of replica denarius (copies). We use these replica coins for cultural needs. To show to our viewers a bit of the life of ancient roman people on the Roman limes and the Roman Empire as a whole .

This “wallet” is forged here in our club by our masters.

Archäologisches Museum Frankfurt, Chester’s bronze purse, Borcovicus, East Sussex.

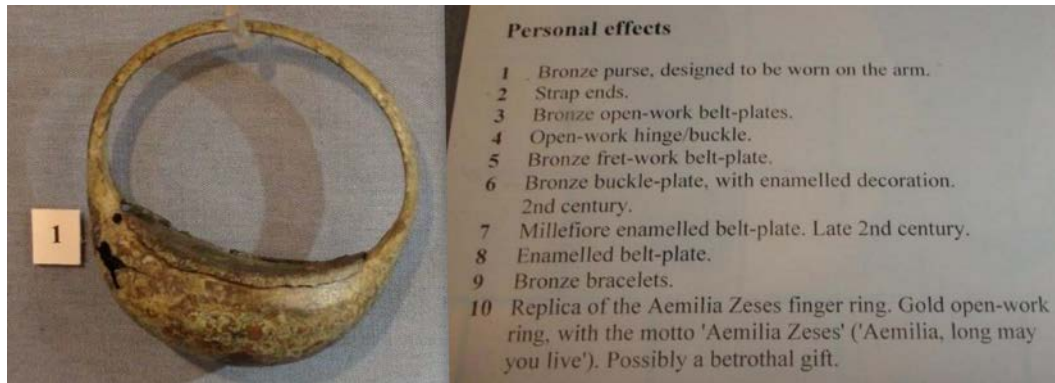

This purse was found in a Roman quarry at Barcombe (about two miles south of Housesteads Roman Fort) in 1837 by a quarryman involved in the building of the Newcastle–Carlisle railway.

Bronze Purse which was found with three gold and sixty silver coins in it at the bottom of an old Roman quarry. [From the hill of Barcombe, near Borcovicus] [No. 1703]

Corbridge-England

Nijmegen (Netherlands), Regional Historical Museum - Lovech Bulgaria, ITullie House Museum

